LumberWorks, Chainsaw Gloves

Superior's LumberWorks chainsaw gloves are as comfortable, dexterous and good looking as a pair of our mechanics gloves, but feature an eight-layer lining of Kevlar® on the back of the left hand—a specific chain-arrest woven Kevlar®—that provides a level of cut resistance designed to withstand a chainsaw running at 3140 feet per minute. This meets the EN 381:1999 Class 0 for chainsaw cuts.

Other features include water-repellant, smooth, grain goatskin leather palms with built in anti-vibration reinforcement. This improves wear while reducing vibration transfer to the hand substantially. Elasticized velcro wrists improve comfort, while keeping out debris. Backs are made with stretchy nylon/lycra fabric, laminated with a water-repellant breathable membrane to keep hands dry. Choose from two styles: glove style, or one-finger mitt style.
